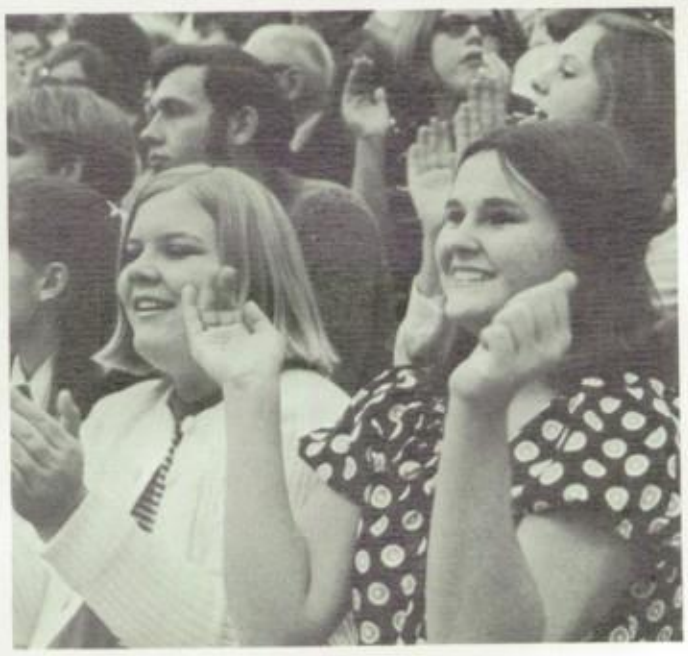
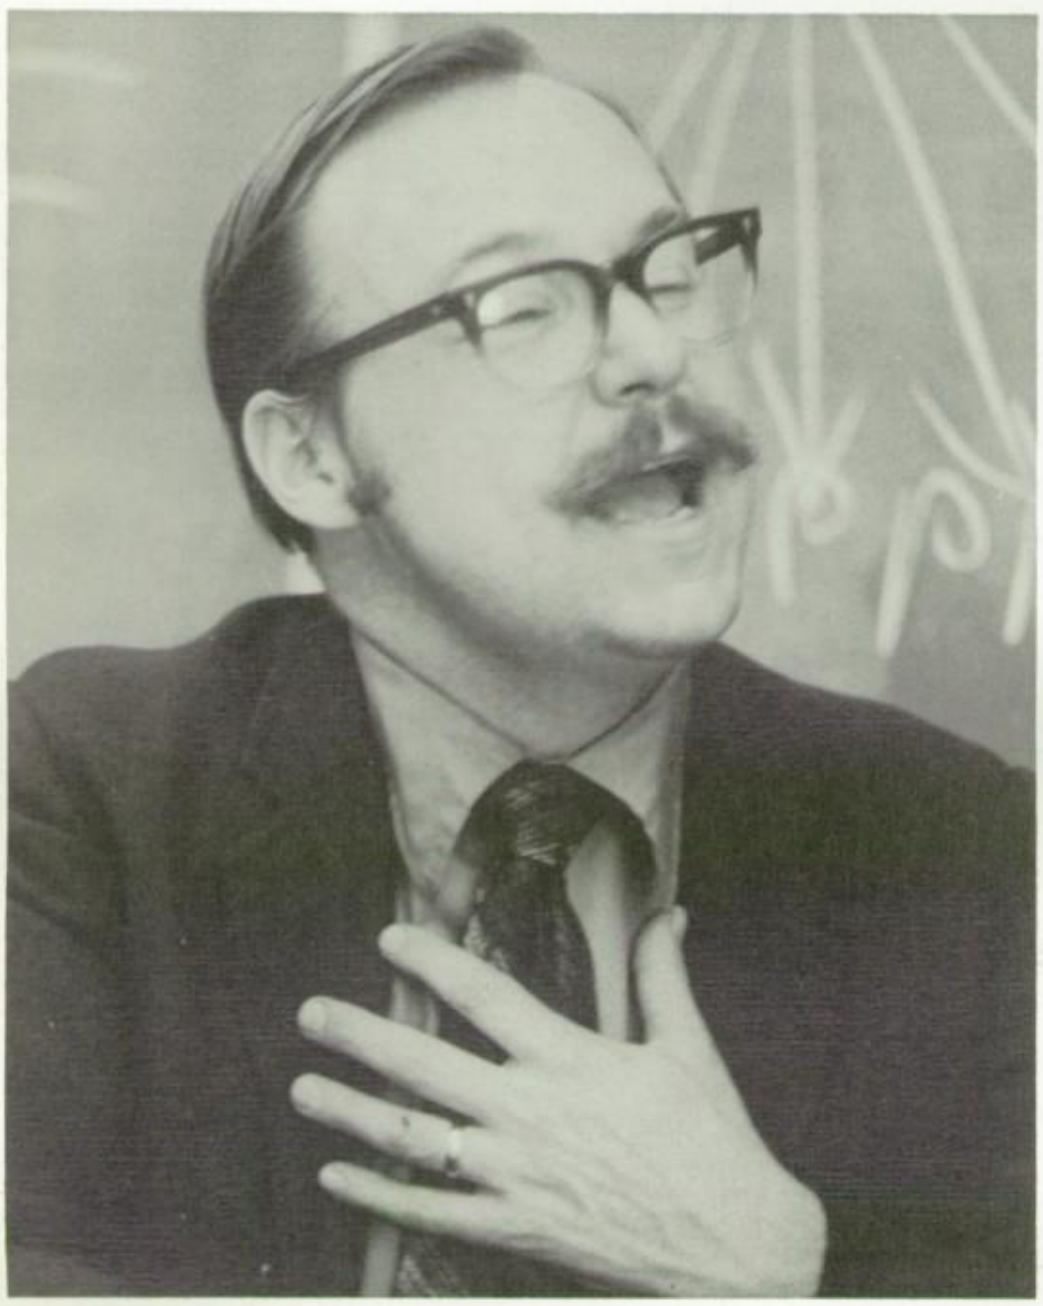
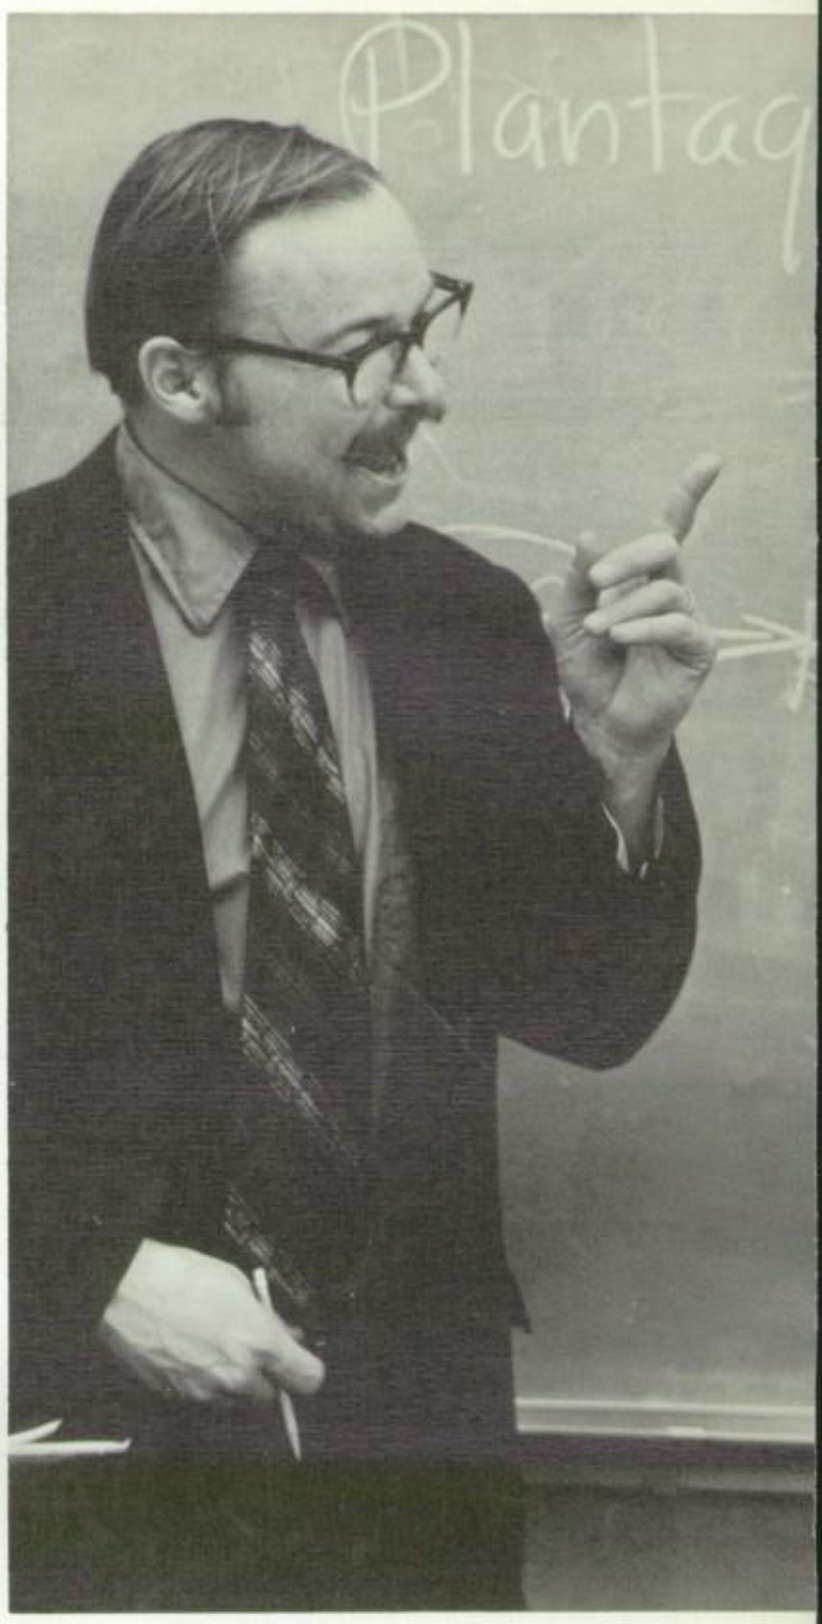
This is Charter Oak

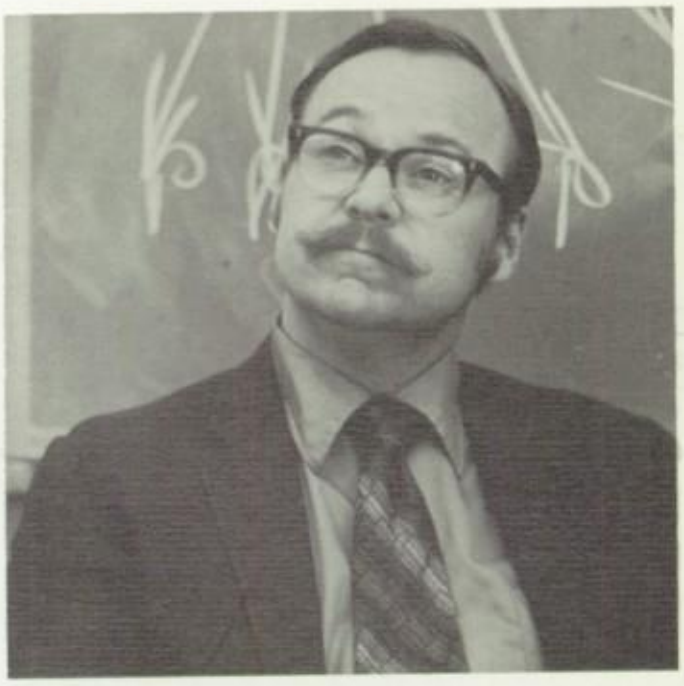


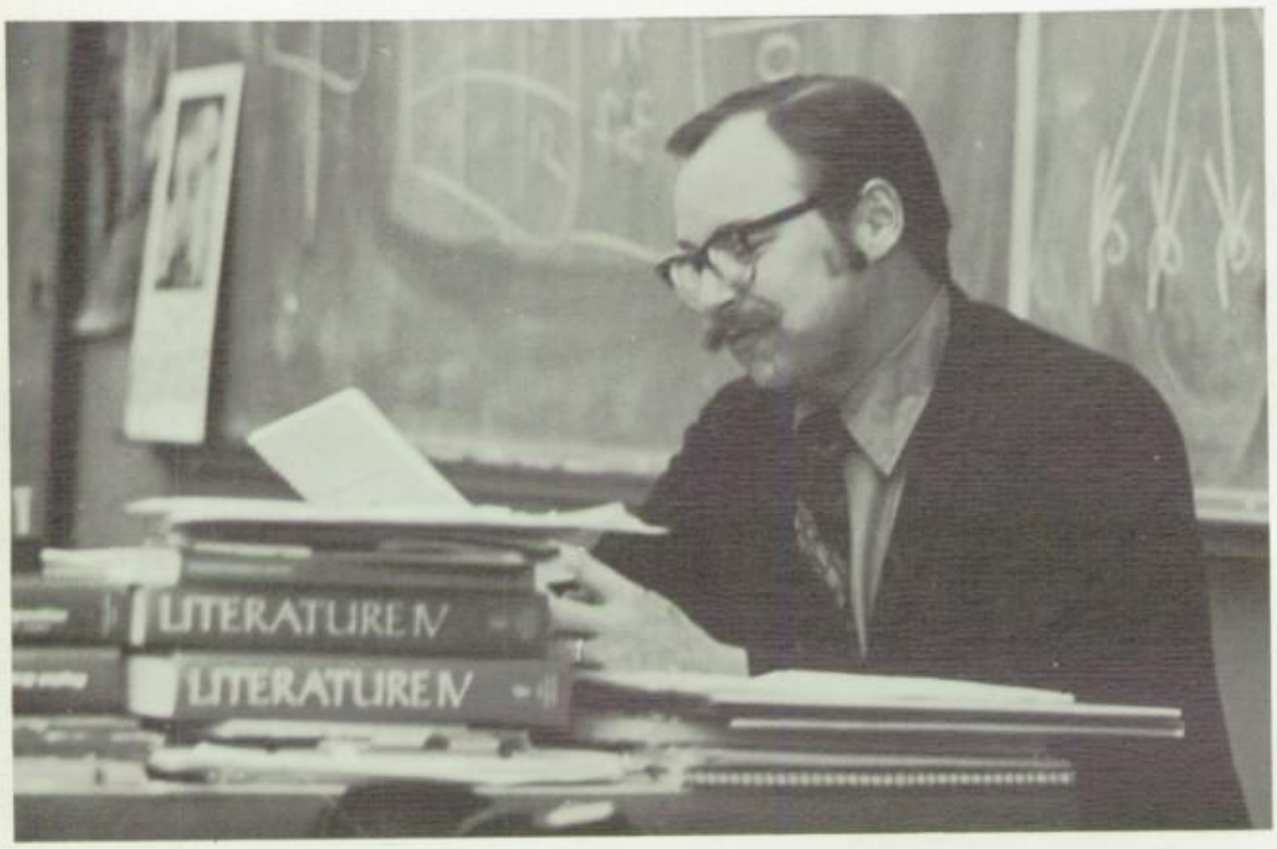


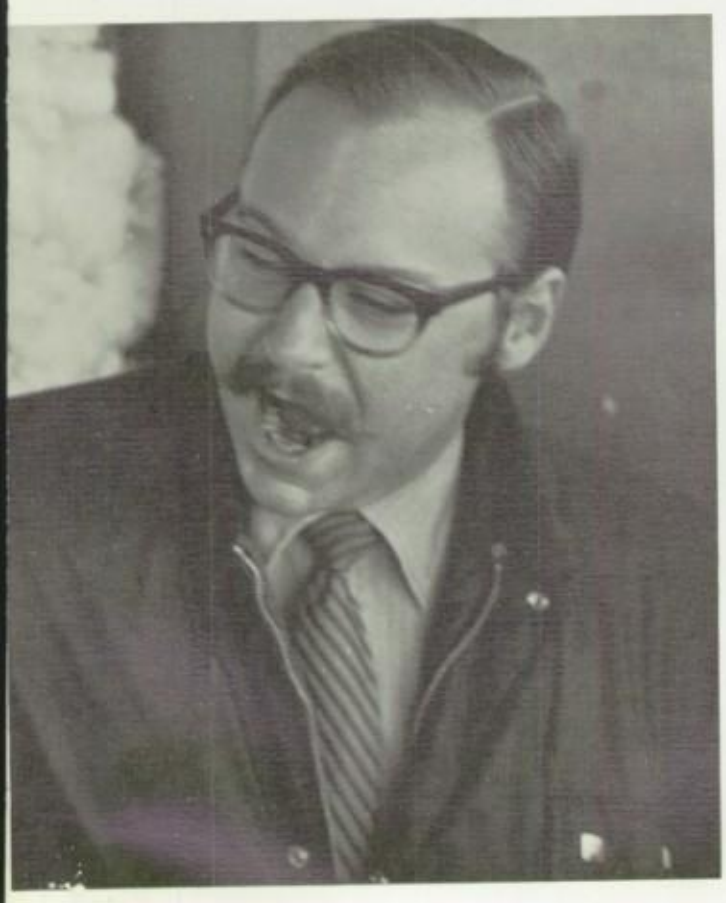


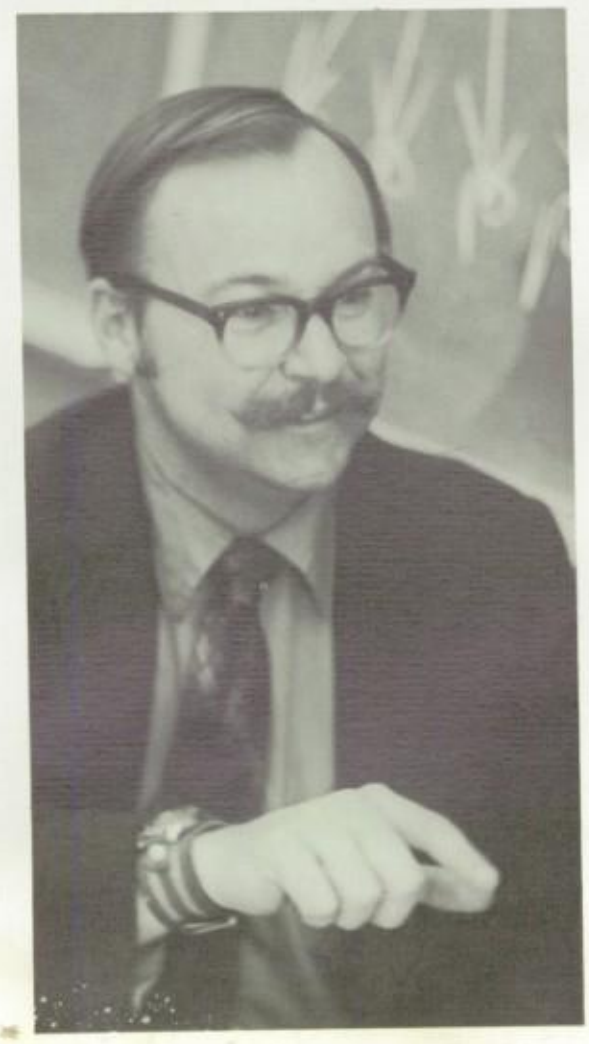
1971 Shield Dedication

The yearbook staff dedicates this volume of the Shield to Mr. David Sundstrand. He has earned this recognition by conveying to those around him the idea that he really cares about his work and his students. As depicted on these pages, he is a person of many moods. Although he is completely serious about his job, he uses humor to its best advantage. To reciprocate for all of his efforts, we dedicate this book to one who has dedicated himself.









SENIORS

The class of '71 has always been the most spirited class at Charter Oak since it's freshman year. We were spirited because of the fine leadership within the class through the years.

As freshman, during A.F.S. week in '68, we surprised the rest of the school by outselling two other classes with our projects. As sophomores and juniors we did equally as well. We had a sponge-throwing contest, made root beer floats and raffled off stuffed animals.

Even though each year had different challenges, our underclass days will be most remembered for the junior year because of all the hours and hard work we went through to make the Junior-Senior Prom a success. Under the leadership of Marian Last our class did a fantastic job of raising funds for that Prom. Through a lot of wheeling and dealing, we not only had the prom at the famous Ambassador Hotel but also had THE Sammy Davis Jr. stop by and sing our theme song, "The Age of Aquarius" and crown the queen of the prom. On top of all that the class of '71 has had the first financial success in the history of the school for prom expenses.

Our senior class gift, the mosaic tile designed by Gary Bouch, is a fitting reminder of the class of '71. The spirit of the Lancers IS sky high.

Not bad for our first Supplement

Editor: Joan Aarestad

Assistant Editors: Leslye Melton, and Colleen McLellan

The yearbook staff put forth its usual effort this year to produce last-int memories for Charter Oak High School students.

We spent long hours putting together this book: taking pictures, choosing which ones to use, writing copy, making layouts and a new trick was processing and printing all of our own pictures. There were times we had to pull Mr. Harding out of his home to let us work here during weekends and holidays.

We hope you like what came of this year's work and will look forward to the 1972 Shield.

I passed up a date for this?

He's our Uncle Bill.

The scroll staff has kept the students of Charter Oak as well informed as possible on the activities around campus. Even though the staff is small they are always on the move to dig up new news that might be of interest to the student body.

The scroll's new advisor, Miss McCallum, was a great deal of help to her staff. Without her help the paper would not have run as smoothly as it did.

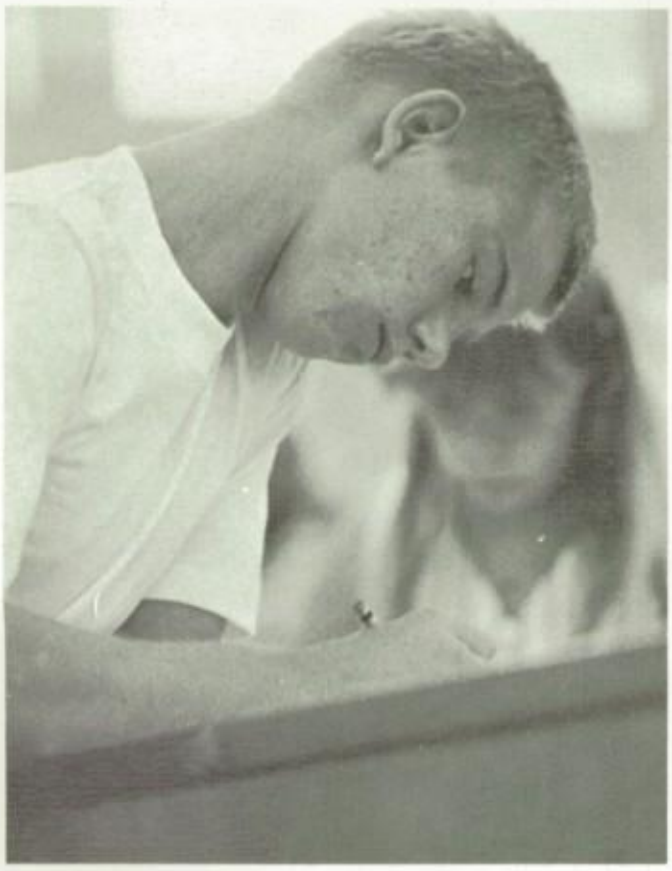
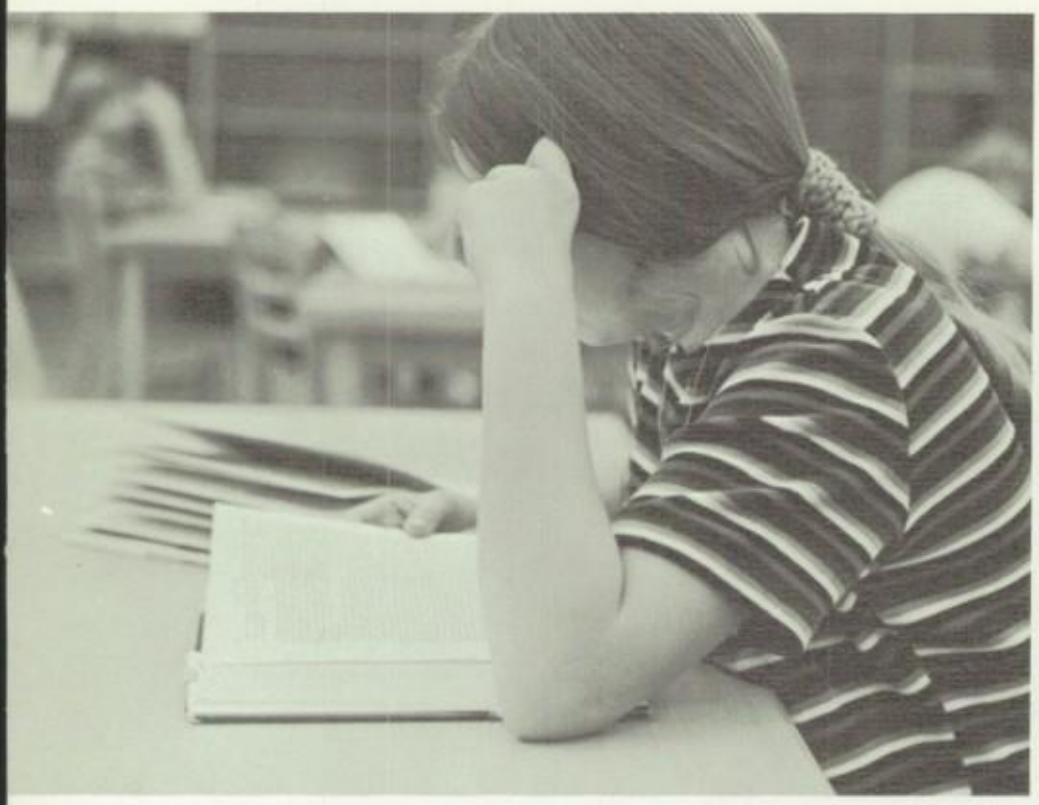
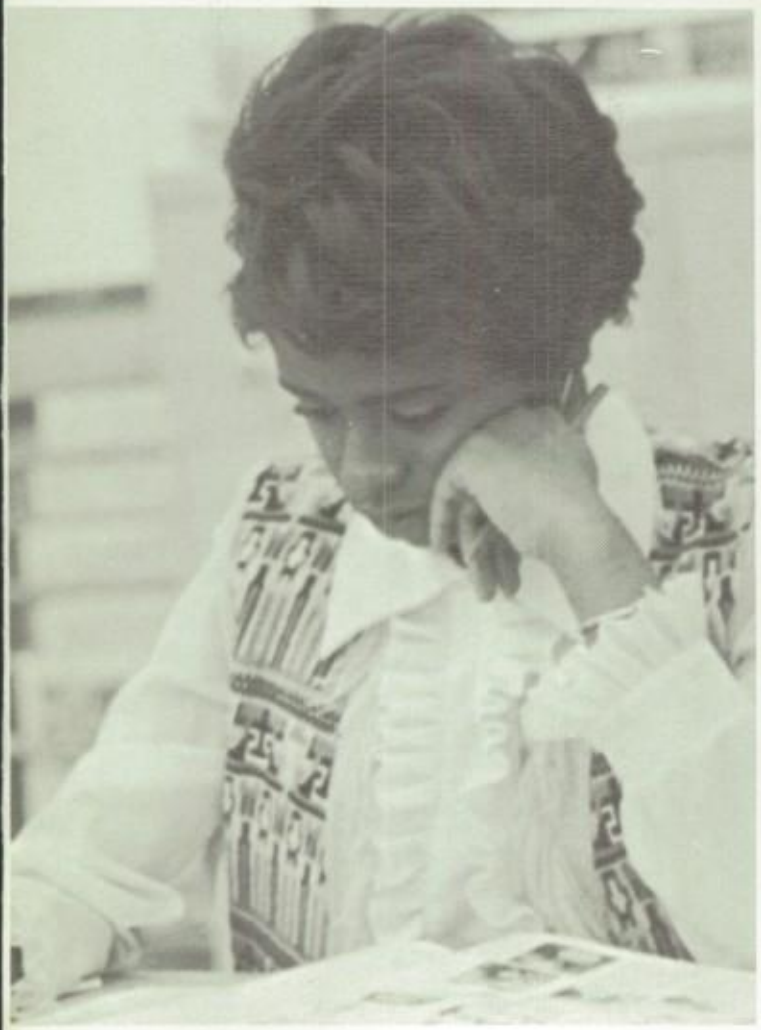
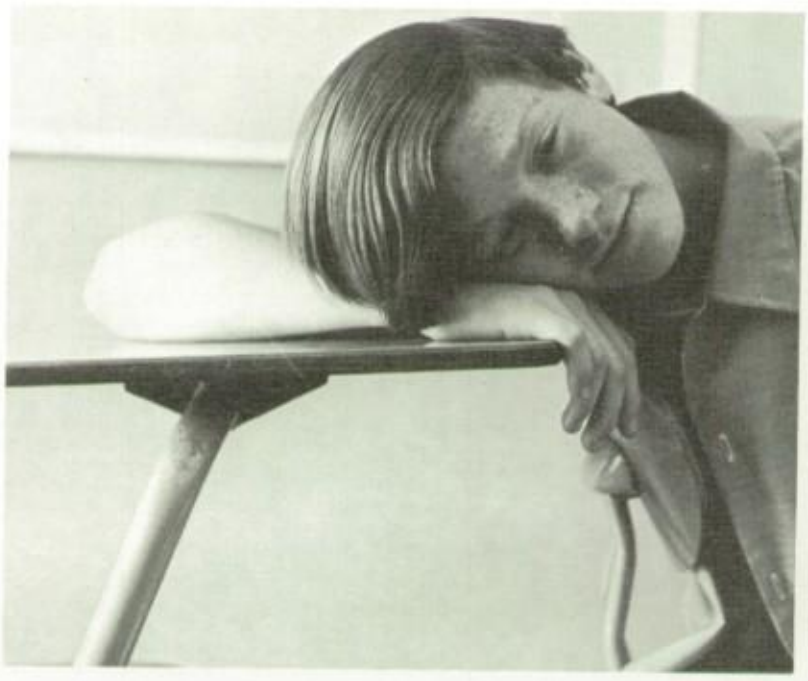
Before all the extra-curricular activities, students put in their time studying or learning skills. They use the materials available—books, machines, and teachers, to produce things beneficial to them.









Students at Charter Oak manage to find time between their studies to have a good time. Whether it's talking with friends, resting up after a hard class, eating lunch or just plain messing around, they keep occupied.

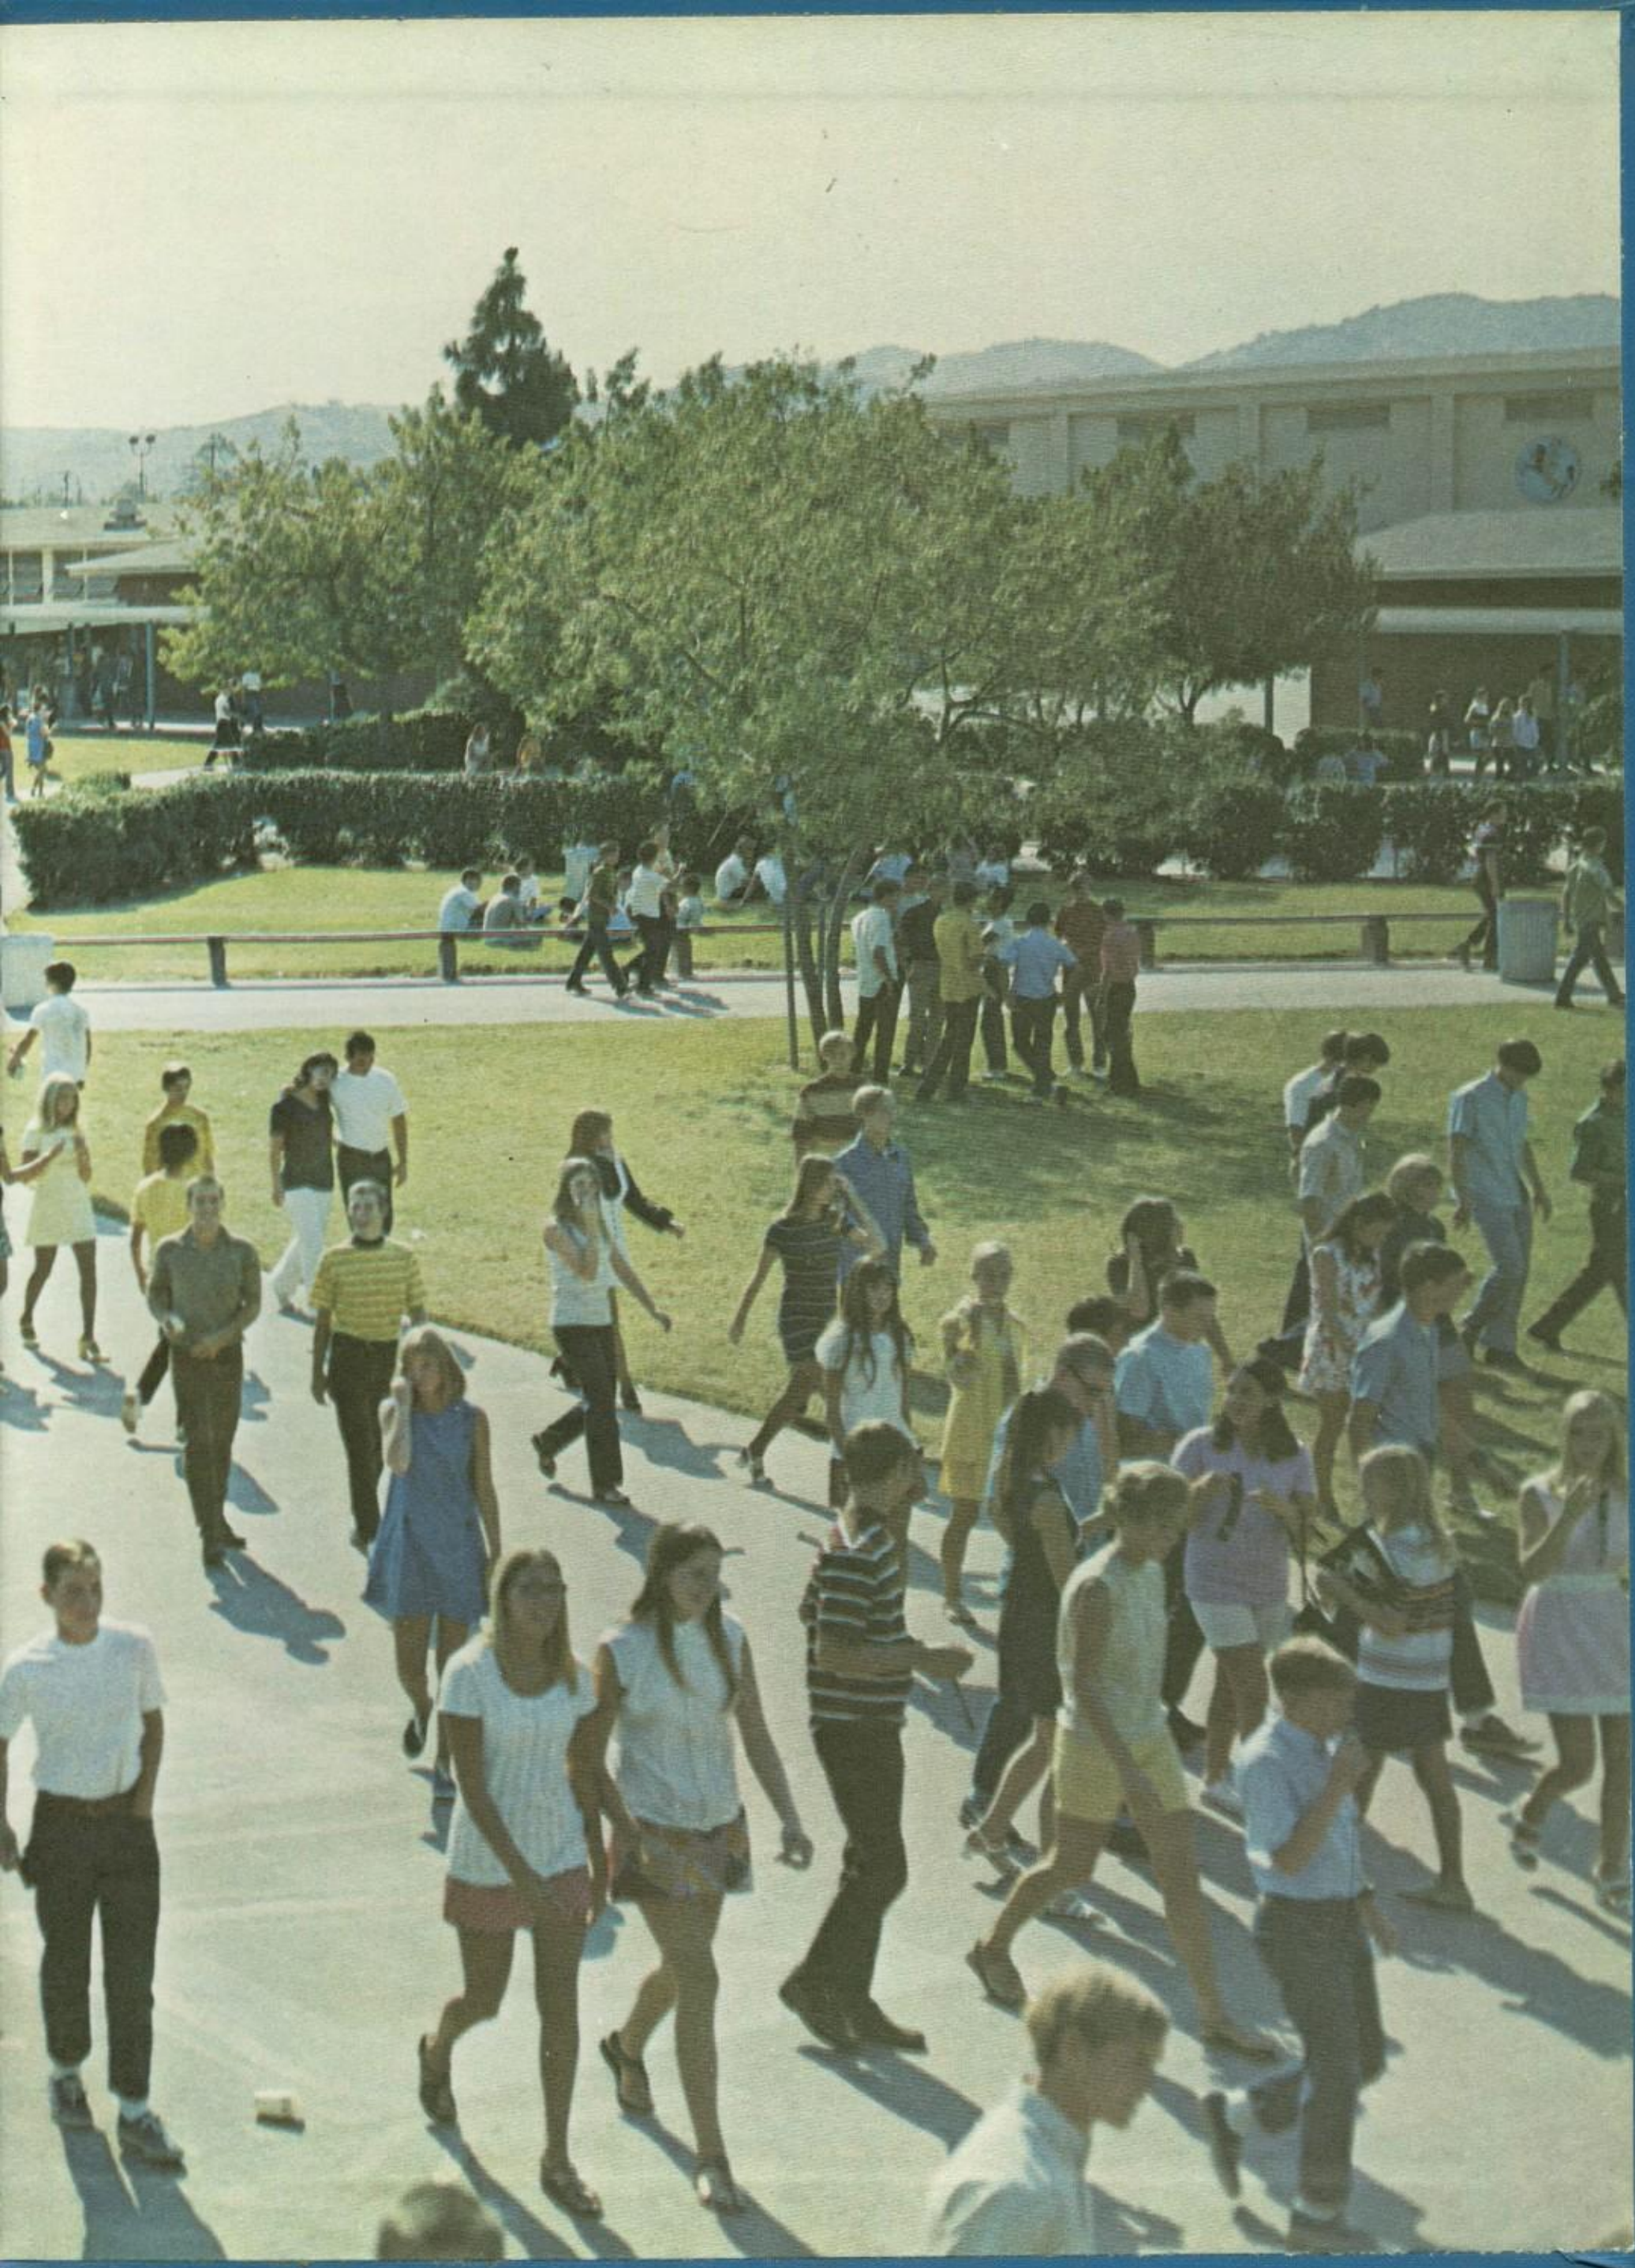
Now that our final pages have been sent in, everyone connected with the yearbook can breathe with relief and commit to memory the hours and hours of work we put in to produce these 212 pages.

Our most challenging undertaking this year was in the photography department. With very few exceptions, all the pictures used in this book were processed by the staff photographers under the able direction of the photo editor, Roger Cota.


The rest of the staff labored to get out their layouts on time. We have a smaller staff this year but what we lacked in size, we made up in sheer determination. Leslye Melton and Colleen McLellan, my assistant editors, were invaluable not only for their assigned sections but also for any odd jobs that needed attention. Marc Pelletier and John Natale served double duty as photographers and regular staff members. Pam Schaeffer, Cathy Turgetto, Jeanne Richardson, Jo Giametta, Lea Phillips, Marcy Arias, Mary Breier, Tom Reed and Steve Butler were also instrumental in the production of the book. An extra special thanks goes to Mr. Harding, out adviser, for all the time and trouble he has gone to for the staff. Then, I must thank all the people not directly connected with the yearbook for all their cooperation - all the teachers that put up with picture-taking, Mrs. Hoelke for her AV room, and Mrs. Johnson for her financial assistance.
